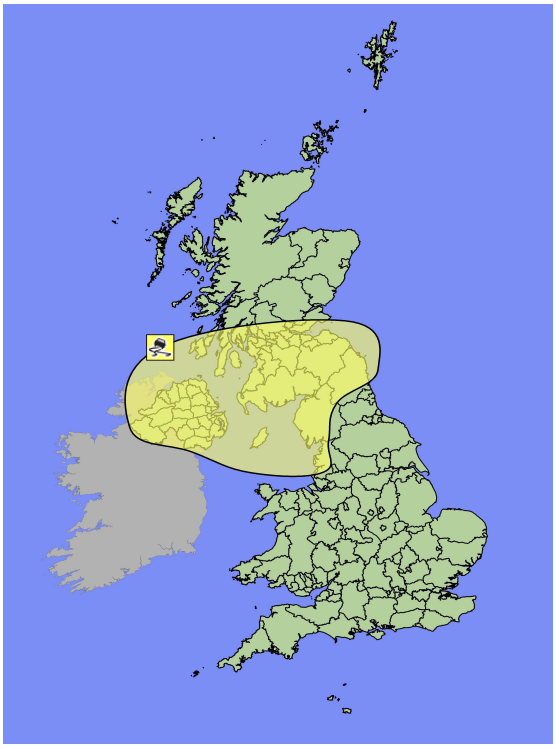
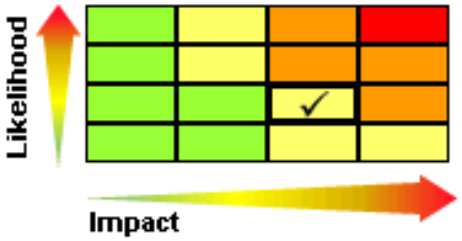
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
There is a risk of showers continuing across this area during Friday morning falling as snow at times and giving some locally moderate accumulations, mainly above 200 metres. However, ice will be the main hazard, before, during and after showers.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Ice

Valid from 15:00 on Thu, 15th Dec 2011 until 12:00 on Fri, 16th Dec 2011

Frost on Friday morning will lead to a risk of widespread ice on untreated surfaces. Showers will continue, falling as sleet and snow at times. Accumulations of 5 cm of snow are likely over higher ground with some slush to lower levels.

The public should be aware that this could lead to travel disruption.
